

For the Real Estate Agent

FROM SIDE ONE>

We believe you will be pleased with our balance of judgment and logic as we perform our inspections and if/when we recommend further evaluation.

We also know that to earn your referrals, we have to be easy to do business with. From administration, to communications, to scheduling—we make your life easier by offering you and your client extra services, simplified paperwork, fast response time, and outstanding reporting that both you and your client will appreciate for its clarity and simplicity.

During the inspection, you and your clients will enjoy professionalism with an eye towards cleanliness and care inside the home. Your client will enjoy having the report available following the inspection, and our inspector will discuss the findings with you and your client should you wish. If the client is not present, then the report can be easily emailed, and it will also be available on our website with password protection. We routinely provide agents with a report summary, cleared ahead of time with your client.

We look forward to delivering a higher level of home inspection services to you.
